A martial arts studio and a fitness training business are opening locations at Progress Ridge TownSquare in Beaverton, Gramor Development announced.

Black Eagle Martial Arts is leasing 1,430 square feet at the 20-acre development anchored by Cinetopia and New Seasons Market. The studio teaches the black eagle style of Korean martial arts and specializes in classes for kids.

Fulcrum Fitness, which has a location in Northeast Portland, will offer boot camps, personal training, yoga and small group classes at its new 3,100-square-foot site.

Both businesses are expected to open by February 2012. Progress Ridge is now 90 percent leased.
